THE CLONE WARS Q&A!

Q: Tell us about your job, Jens!

A: I'm a design manager responsible for the development of LEGO Star Wars models. I work with Lucasfilm to make sure that the models are approved and accurate to the original designs.

Q: How many sets have you designed for LEGO Star Wars?

A: I have been working on LEGO Star Wars for ten years now, and I love to build, so I don't know exactly how many sets I've made...but it's a lot! The one I am most proud of is #10179 Ultimate Collector's Millennium Falcon, as it is the biggest LEGO set ever made, with more than 5,000 bricks!

Q: Were you excited about getting to work on LEGO Star Wars?

A: I am definitely a Star Wars fan, and I have always loved the movies. So when it was decided that we would make LEGO Star Wars, I did everything I could to get assigned to the project...and here I am!

Q: How did you decide which of the The Clone Wars vehicles to make as LEGO sets?

A: We worked together with Lucas Licensing to decide. They knew which vehicles would be important in The Clone Wars movie and TV show, and we knew which ones would be fun to play with.

Q: How do you know what features and characters to include in a model?

A: We want to include figures that go with the model in the story. We like to make cool new figures for sets whenever we can. The features and functions are usually based on what we see on the screen, but sometimes we are creative and invent our own to make the model even more fun.

Q: How do you keep in touch with Lucasfilm while you're designing a new model?

The new The Clone Wars movie and TV series have taken the galaxy by storm...and LEGO® Star Wars™ is there with the coolest vehicles, droids, clones, Jedi and Sith from the latest chapter in the Star Wars saga!

We wanted to give LEGO Club members a special inside peek at the making of these action-packed new sets, so we sat down for a Q&A with model designer Jens Kronvold Frederiksen to talk about how a LEGO Star Wars set is made!

A: I am in contact with them all the time by e-mail, and we also talk on the phone very often during the design process.

Q: In your own words, tell us all about some of the newest LEGO Star Wars sets!

A: For the second half of 2008, I designed #7675 AT-TE and the exclusive #7681 Homing Spider Droid. The Homing Spider Droid is fun because the legs move when you lift and move the model, and you can do some fun things with that. The AT-TE model has two hidden rocket launchers in the front that you can use to shoot the STAP and battle droid. It takes a little practice to hit the STAP, but it's a lot of fun!

Q: Apart from the Millennium Falcon, what was your favorite Star Wars model to design?

A: I have always liked the walkers from Star Wars very much, so I think the AT-TE is my favorite.

Q: What do you think of the new The Clone Wars movie and tv series?

A: It's great! There are so many cool vehicles and a LOT of lightsaber battles!

Q: What's your favorite Star Wars movie?

A: It's hard to say, because they are all different, but I think that Episode III and Episode V are my favorites. I especially like the battle on Hoth with snowspeeders and AT-ATs, and in Episode III, all the battles and General Grievous are very cool.

Q: Do you have a favorite Star Wars character or vehicle?

A: Boba Fett™. He looks cool and flies the Slave I™, which is probably my favorite vehicle. It's really unique and has a lot of hidden weapons and features.

Q: If you could make anything you wanted from the Star Wars universe out of LEGO bricks, what would it be?

A: Well, I think we ARE pretty much making everything from the Star Wars universe! But a huge Super Star Destroyer would be fun.

Q: Finally, can you give us any hints about future LEGO Star Wars sets that you're working on?

A: Sorry, you'll just have to wait and see!

DIGGING WITH THE DWARVES!

When the trolls attacked the Western Kingdom, the good king and his knights asked the Dwarf King to help them. Now the bravest dwarves have come to protect the castle and the kingdom, so let the trolls beware!

7040 DWARVES' MINE DEFENDER

The dwarves have built many vehicles and contraptions to help them defend their mines and treasures from attack. One of the most powerful is the Mine Defender, an armored battle wagon that rolls into battle with three giant spinning blades, plus a chain-activated catapult on top to drive off even the toughest giant trolls!

7036 DWARVES' MINE

Everyone knows that dwarves like to dig, and there's no better place to dig than a dwarf mine! Here, the dwarves work night and day with their picks and shovels to find gold, silver, iron and gems buried in the rocky walls of the mountains. Everything they find is scooped into a bucket and dumped down the long ramp to the mine cars below. The cars carry the metal to the forge, where the skilled dwarf blacksmith hammers it into the strongest weapons and armor in the entire kingdom.

Empty bucket into moving minecart!

For more LEGO Castle fun and adventures, visit http://castle.LEGO.com!

BrickMaster Fact!

Dwarves don't like trolls, but what they really hate are dragons. Dwarves live under mountains and dig for gold and jewels, and dragons live on top of mountains and steal gold and jewels. They're natural enemies!

DWARF WARRIOR

Dwarf Warriors don't like to start fights, but they're very good at finishing them. Cheerful, strong, and extremely proud of their bushy beards, they're always ready to help a friend in trouble, and nothing stops them from charging at trolls every chance they get... except when they get distracted by something shiny to dig up!

THE DWARF KING

The High King of the Dwarves is as old as the mountains, and twice as wise. He leads his warriors into battle, swinging his mighty hammer over his head with a bellowing roar. The very sight of his famous golden-winged helmet is enough to send most trolls running!
